CLACKAMAS COMMUNITY COLLEGE
FOUNDATION ANNUAL REPORT 2019

THANK YOU

Through the years, your generosity has positively impacted our students. However, this year, keeping CCC students as a priority in your giving has an even more profound impact and appreciation. Recently we have all witnessed the generosity and goodwill of our community transform and save lives amidst the efforts to slow the spread of COVID-19.

I saw this power firsthand at Clackamas Community College this spring when we all worked together to let students know we are still here for them. You rose up to provide our students with the technology, funding and resources they need to be successful at Clackamas Community College. In the time of greatest urgency, your generosity and your commitment to our students warms my heart. Thank you.

With gratitude,

Dr. Tim Cook
Clackamas Community College President

As the CCC Foundation Board President, it is my honor to share our 2019 Annual Report with you. Because of you, hope continues for CCC students and the Clackamas community.

For instance, last year you provided aid to over 430 students through scholarships and emergency grants alone. These students are now able to reach their goals because you helped provide them an education.

Presently, donors like you are ensuring CCC supports community needs brought on by the pandemic. Your continued support and generosity are humbling.

On behalf of the CCC Foundation Board, I offer our deepest gratitude and appreciation. Thank you for being All in for Cougars!

Most sincerely,

Elizabeth Munns
CCC Foundation Board President

DIRECTOR'S DESK

Educational advancement and economic prosperity for all

Last September, I had the privilege of joining Cougar Nation as the ED of the Foundation. What drew me to the college was a personal desire to carry forward the enormous work being accomplished to support CCC students and programs. Coming from an ESL home and being one of the first in my family to receive a college education, I'm drawn to our students and understand the hurdles they face each day. It was clear when I first stepped foot on our campuses and still is today that CCC is critical in creating educational advancement and economic prosperity for all. Our emergency grants, endowments, annual scholarships and business sponsorships inspire hard-working students cross the finish line and into their careers. The generosity embedded throughout our community communicates to all students, faculty and workforce partners that the future is brighter than ever because we are in fact "All in For Cougars"!

*John Chang, Executive Director,

ALL IN FOR COUGAR$

WRESTLING CRAB FEED

What happens when student athletes don't have to worry about uniform or travel costs accrued to compete in the sport they love? The sport that could enable them to move on to four-year colleges and universities? They become national champions.

In the last eight years, the CCC Wrestling program has raised approximately $215,000 at their annual Crab Feed event. In 2019, $45,000 supported the team as they earned their third national championship and Coach Josh Rhoden was awarded the NJCAA National coach of the year. Coach Rhoden started this event as a way to supplement travel costs the team was accumulating throughout the season, and it has been a highlight for alumni, donors and parents to attend. As this event continues, it will surely bring our wrestlers into a new decade of dominance. Go Cougars!

CORPORATE CHALLENGE

The 2019 Corporate Challenge Golf Tournament was a highlight event to raise money for the Student Opportunity Fund. Twenty teams joined together to spend a day on the greens, playing for Cougars. Throughout the last 26 years, the Corporate Challenge has grossed more than $2.8 million in donations and sponsorships. If you measure the aggregate total grossed over the years, it would amount to full-time tuition for 572 students in today's dollars. Thank you to our incredible sponsors who participated in 2019.

MOVING STUDENTS FORWARD

New Partnerships

The American Association of University Women, Lake Oswego Chapter, provides an annual scholarship for CCC students. This scholarship provides financial assistance for female students returning to school after a break in their education. The AAUW honored their 2019 scholarship recipient, Cortney Rubio (above right), at a special event.

Faculty and Staff

Even our employees are All in for Cougars! Clackamas Community College faculty and staff contribute during the fall staff drive each year in support of students and programs.

Many support the Student Opportunity Fund, which provides scholarships. In 2019, an incredible 64% of full-time faculty and staff contributed.

Our employees care for students both inside and outside the classroom. Thank you!

PARTNER SPOTLIGHT

“We are proud to provide scholarships at CCC! As an employer in the industry, we have been faced with the difficult challenge of hiring enough employees qualified to keep up with demand. CCC has been providing quality students for years who come to the industry with a great base knowledge, which helps shorten the training process.

We value our relationship with our community and CCC. Our Molalla facility brings CCC instructors onsite to teach leadership development, identify students who may be a fit for our CNC router positions, and engage with CCC on a plan to teach manufacturing-based ESL classes to our employees and other members of our Molalla community.”

CCC HAS GIVEN ME MY PURPOSE

“I will celebrate my 38th year of teaching at Clackamas Community College during the 20-21 academic year.

During my tenure as volleyball coach at CCC some my accomplishments include currently being sixth in the nation in wins with 836, and winning two Northwest Athletic Conference titles as well as having eight of my teams win the National American Volleyball Coaches Association academic award, earning over a 3.3 GPA, as a team.

Clackamas Community College has been my family. It has given me my purpose. Because of this it was important to me to remember CCC in my estate planning. We are all going to leave this earth someday. But, through my estate gift, I can keep helping student athletes forever!

Through the Heritage Society, you too can make a difference in students’ lives with a planned gift.”

-Kathie Woods

THE BEST LEGACY I COULD ASK FOR

“I love the students at CCC. They are eager to learn, enthusiastic and curious. I have a passion for geology and biology and I wanted to share that passion with CCC students. I was a geology professor at CCC from 1973 to 2003 and developed a number of classes, including the Malheur Field Trip and Natural History of Death Valley. I also donated some of my collections including fossils, minerals, and birds to display in the DeJardin science building on the Oregon City campus.

I shared my passion with students for over three decades, and I wanted to continue even after I retired. Just because I’m not there to provide field trips, doesn’t mean they have to stop! I know firsthand the struggles many students face, but those struggles shouldn’t stop them from realizing their dreams. So, I started the John Snively Endowment to provide scholarships for the science field trip programs offered at CCC. This endowment enables me to make a difference in students’ lives for many decades to come, and that’s the best legacy I could ask for.”

-John Snively

PORTLAND GENERAL ELECTRIC

With a long-standing partnership of 19 years, Clackamas Community College and Portland General Electric (PGE) continue to offer our community a pathway to career advancement and continuing education in the utility industry. The CCC Wilsonville campus is the center of our partnership. The Utility Training Alliance Endowment, a $1 million endowment, originally established by PGE and PacifiCorp, provides a scholarship to existing apprenticeship students in the electrical trades and enables high school students to experience the many career facets throughout the utility industry. We are incredibly proud of the unique learning center for our community that the CCC-Wilsonville campus and our PGE partnership have created.

SMALL BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT CENTER

Photo: Rob Campbell, Director of the SBDC, and local small business owner and Foundation Board member Marshall Doyle. Marshall, a long-time SBDC client, received the 2019 Small Business Person of the Year award for the state of Oregon.

Small businesses are an essential part of our community, and we are proud to take part in helping them succeed through education and support services for approximately 15,000 organizations in Clackamas County. The Small Business Development Center (SBDC) is one of the community engagement programs housed at Clackamas Community College's Harmony Community Campus in Milwaukie, and is part of CCC's Connections with Business and Industry, providing a comprehensive business support network to assist clients in getting the tools, staffing, training and resources they need to succeed.

The SBDC serves about 1,200 clients a year, offering classes, workshops and events to new and established businesses. In addition to providing customized education programs, the SBDC provides one-on-one confidential advising at no cost to the client.

Students, services and Slices

CCC is changing the way we serve students and greet visitors to our Oregon City campus. Recently, we broke ground on our new Welcome Center. This building will serve as the “front door” to the college, and will offer the following services: admissions, advising, counseling, education partnerships, financial aid, registration, testing and placement services and a welcome desk. In addition, the attached and remodeled Bill Brod Community Center will house the Disability Resource Center, Veterans Center, Associated Student Government and the Cougar Café. We are intentionally creating a space where students can have most of their questions answered in one sitting rather than moving to different offices or between buildings. This is the last of the bond projects from the bond passed in 2014, and the new building will feature a variety of services including:

■ DRC: The Disability Resource Center provides services that are designed to support student success by creating a welcoming, inclusive and accessible environment.

■ Counseling: Free counseling services are offered to our students. They help students who are struggling and in need of therapy, advice or resources.

■ Veterans Center: CCC is proud to serve our veterans and military family members. Clackamas Community College is honored to be ranked the #6 “Best for Vets” two-year school in the nation by Military Times. The Veterans Center helps with VA educational benefit enrollment, information about all types for veterans benefits, education and career information, financial support for veterans and their dependents through scholarships and grants, referrals to additional resources and much more.

■ Associated Student Government: Associated Student Government (ASG) has a passion for serving others. The ASG serves students in many ways, including offering grants, locker rentals, textbook library and a food and/or hygiene item pantry.

In the fall of 2019, we hosted a community giving day with MOD Pizza in Oregon City. MOD Pizza generously donated 100% of their proceeds that day to the CCC Foundation, totaling $4,941.56. Funds raised will help provide aid to students for textbooks, transportation and child care through ASG grants. Community members stepped up to show their support of the business and CCC students in a steady wave of customers. MOD Pizza had to make a run for additional toppings! Thank you to MOD Pizza and everyone who participated in this incredible event.

PAYING IT FORWARD

THE MICHAEL TRENT ENVIRONMENTAL TECHNOLOGY ENDOWMENT

Michael Trent was the type of person that many of us aspire to be. There are countless stories of him unselfishly going above and beyond to make sure that those around him were successful.

Michael was all about this community. He was an alumnus of CCC, and a steadfast employee of Clackamas County. He was passionate about his profession and for the advocacy of precious local natural resources, constantly seeking innovative new methods and approaches that could help improve the lives of Clackamas County residents.

Michael was all about “paying it forward.” He believed in long-term commitment and support of his community. And that is why Clackamas County Water and Environmental Services, his employer of 25 years, created an endowment in his honor. An endowment is a one-time gift to the CCC Foundation, which is then committed to an investment portfolio in order to accrue additional funds to spend out each year in perpetuity. This particular endowment provides aid to students of the Water and Environmental Technology Associate of Applied Science Degree at CCC.

The first scholarship was awarded from the Michael Trent Water and Environmental Technology Endowment in 2019.

2019 ENDOWMENT ALLOCATIONS:
Scholarships & student support: $160,287
Instructional support: $36,800
Operations: $49,712
Total endowment allocations: $298,289

Happy Retirement, Vicki!

Vicki Smith, Clackamas Community College Foundation's Major Gift Officer and Assistant Executive Director, is retiring in 2020 after an incredible 16 years of service. Vicki's parting words of wisdom to the community are: "Honor everyone." Well said, Vicki. She has truly made a difference in countless lives because of her tireless work on behalf of students, including rallying support during the Foundation's recent campaign to raise $11 million. Vicki's most beloved project was helping establish the Joanne Truesdell Military Families Scholarship Endowment to provide scholarships for military members and their immediate families. Many of you have come to know and befriend Vicki over the years, so help us bid her a fond farewell and happy retirement. She is looking forward to spending some quality time tending to her garden after retirement, but don't worry, you will still see her at CCC events!
